President
John F Carroll Columbian Club

Brothers,

As the New Building Project progresses, the need for qualified, experienced individuals to come forward and assume critical roles is essential to the Projects success. It is with great pleasure that I announce that our Brother Knight, John Harris PGK has accepted the position of Manager of Construction for the New Building Project.

John brings over thirty years of construction experience, an in-depth knowledge of management and leadership in numerous venues. John is a dedicated Knight who is committed to the success of the New Building Project.

I have provided an overview of John's responsibilities:

Manager of Construction has responsibility for all matters relating to the construction of a building replacing the current facility. Position reports to the Board of Directors of the JFCCC and is a full member of the New Building Committee. Manager will oversee all activities of a General Contractor and sub contractors. Insures that all building plans, timing and action issues, construction standards are adhered to. Insures compliance with Federal, State and Local laws and ordinances. Manager will interface with other members of the Building Project on a regular basis and will provide timely updates to the John F Carroll Columbian Clubs Board of Directors.
